

WIXInstitute of Filtration Technology

57312 Supercedes 57314 on Specific Applications

At Wix Filters we are dedicated to the ongoing improvement of our product offerings, and are pleased to announce a product refinement that is being made to our 57314.

The most evident of these refinements is a molded plastic lid integrated with the filter element as a single assembly. This innovative one-piece construction insures positive engagement between the cap and cartridge while eliminating common installation challenges. Simplified disposal of the old element and one less part to worry about. This equates to improved ease of installation, and overall convenience.

These changes are being made as part of an ongoing product strategy that focuses on innovation and continuing product improvement.

For proper part number selection, consult the current application recommendation listings.

Figure 1.0 The Wix 57312 filter kit.